Unemployment offices close when MESC funding bill dies

BY TRACI BONNEY

The Bay St. Louis and Poyay-une unemployment insurance offices are among 64 offices throughout Mississippi that closed in March when a funding bill supported by the Mississippi Employment Security Commission failed to clear the state Senate in the last days of the 1990 state legislative session.

The bill, lobbied against by the Mississippi Manufacturers Association, would have called for an $11 million tax reduction for Mississippi employers and increased benefits to the unemployed by $4 million.

It would have allowed MESC to offset recent federal budget cuts and state employee pay raises, according to Linda Ross Aldy, executive director of MESC.

What this means locally is that those in Hancock and Pearl River counties who would have applied for unemployment insurance benefits at the local satellite offices now must go to the branch office on Pass Road in Biloxi.

"We suspect that many will decide they cannot afford the trip and will therefore not file for their unemployment benefits," Aldy said.

The death of this bill also may affect the operations of State Employment Service offices.

Ann Ladner, the office manager and an employment interviewer with the Bay St. Louis office, said a decision concerning possible Employment Service office closings is expected within the next three or four weeks.

"We won't know until sometime between July and October. With the possibility that up to 67 percent of the county offices in the state will shut down, we may or may not be closed," she said.

"I don't know what they (MESC) will use to decide what offices will close. If they use placement, we may stay open. If they use location, we may close. I don't know how close other county offices are to area part-time employees will be unemployed. Ladner said, "It's a scary feel-offices."

If the Bay St. Louis office closes, two full-time and one ing, not knowing whether we'll have our jobs in the next few months."

Supervisor responds to recent road complaints

BY TRACI BONNEY

Roads in Shoreline Park are not in such bad repair as recent public outcry would indicate, according to District 5 Supervisor Mike Ladner.

Ladner said every street in the east side of Shoreline Park has been upgraded in the two years and four months he has been in office.

"When I took office two years and four months ago, people were bogging down all over the east side of Shoreline Park. The school buses could not travel the streets to pick up the children.

"Today school buses can travel all roads on the east side."

Ladner said that when he was campaigning he saw children walking through the mud and potholes to get to the bus stops.

"I said I would do something about it if I were elected. I have. We grade the roads and put down pea gravel and sand on most of the roads."

"A mixture of pea gravel and sand is good for those roads because the roads in Shoreline Park are only two or three feet above sea level, four feet above at the most. The pea gravel and sand mixture absorbs a lot of the water when the roads flood. The mixture allows the cars to travel the roads even when the roads are under water."

"During Hurricane Elena, the east side of Shoreline Park flooded six or eight times. The gravel and sand on the roads allowed residents to get in and out. After the water went down, we were able to go in and grade the roads."

Ladner said much research would be needed to determine just how much sand and gravel and how many culverts have been installed during his term, but he estimated that about $200,000 has been spent in upgrading the roads in his district.

The activity in his district has not been light, Ladner said. He listed more than 20 instances of road grading, ditch digging, culvert installation and other activities that have taken place in his district in the first three months of 1990.

In answer to allegations that the district is dragging its heels in paving the Shoreline Park roads, Ladner said, "These roads are on a marsh. You can't pave on a marsh without a good solid foundation. We're working to build that up now."

"What people don't seem to realize is that we can't work when the roads are wet. So after

Annual Easter sunrise service to be at Christ Episcopal Church

BY TRACI BONNEY

The annual Easter sunrise service at Christ Episcopal Church will be held 6:30 a.m. Sunday on the church grounds.

The non-sectarian worship service will include participation by visiting pastors of various denominations.

Max Burns, coordinator for the service, said several churches and the Chamber of Commerce participate by providing the podium, chairs, refreshments and other needed items.

"In the past, several churches have been involved. St. Rose de Lima has been heavily involved in past years," Burns said.

He added he expects their participation, as well as that of other churches this year, but could not give any names at press time because he had not received confirmation from all the participants.

"Christ Episcopal has been the traditional site of the service because it has a magnificent view of the east and the sunrise. I doubt you can duplicate it anywhere in the area."

Anyone interested in attending the service is invited, Burns said.

Gravestones shot at area cemeteries

BY TRACI BONNEY

The Hancock County Sheriff's Department is investigating two incidents of vandalism at area cemeteries.

Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said vandalism was reported at Logtown Cemetery in Pearlington and Bayou La Croix Cemetery in Waveland.

The vandalism apparently occurred over the weekend. At Logtown Cemetery, a headstone was found to be marred by gunshots and at Bayou LaCroix Cemetery a statue was destroyed.

Peterson said empty beer cans were found at both sites. Investigators recovered six empty 12-gauge #1 buckshot cartridges and six .35-caliber magnum bullets at Logtown Cemetery.

Peterson said, "Apparently somebody had a party and shot up the stone."

Deputy Leo Ladner is investigating the incidents. There were no suspects as of press time.

Peterson asked that anyone with information concerning the vandalism call the sheriff's department. All calls will be kept confidential, he said.

More layoffs announced by Army ammo plant

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant has announced another set of layoffs.

According to Robert Burns, public information director for the plant contractors, Mason-Chamberlain Inc., 40 layoffs in the cargo section, scheduled to become effective on June 8, were announced today.

The employees who will be receiving that set of notices join 65 whose layoffs were announced Friday. Those, mostly involving millwrights and workers in the cargo metal parts building, become effective on June 1, Burns stated.

The initial announcement of layoffs at the plant, which is scheduled for mothballing after the facility's last contract is completed at the end of July, involved 294 employees who will leave April 23.

The first to leave will be the employees in the projectile metal parts facility, where the casings for the shells the plant produces are manufactured. The next large group to be affected is likely to be the loading and packing facility workers.

Another 100 layoffs set up for April 27 and 10 for April 30 include mostly the metal parts and cargo employees, Burns added.

Another 73 included some skilled labor and some administrative personnel.

With another group anticipated for May 25, a total of 582 layoffs have been made public, Burns said. The plant had about 1,300 employees when the mothballing plans were announced after a $90 million congressional appropriation was held up by President George Bush.

Burns added that the mothballing plans will "definitely not be affected" by a visit from representatives of the Republic of Korea Explosives Office, who are supposed to visit the facility April 17 to look at the possibility of purchasing rounds.

He stated that the next set of layoffs is expected to be a large number affecting the cargo metal parts building.

Bay-Waveland schools eye lighthouse project

BY TRACI BONNEY

Governor Ray Mabus' B.E.S.T. plan was among the matters discussed at the Monday meeting of the Bay St. Louis-Waveland school board.

The meeting started with the swearing in of James D. Wilcox of Waveland as the board's newest member. Afterward, the minutes and claims docket were approved.

Board president Charles "Chuck" Benvenuti opened the discussion with a proposal that the schools in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland district consider setting a goal of becoming "lighthouse schools" within the next two to three years.

Under the B.E.S.T. plan passed but not yet funded by the state legislature, a lighthouse school is one that has reached a predetermined level of excellence in education.

When a school is named a lighthouse school, the benefits include more money for teachers and non-certified personnel and less paperwork for teachers.

Benvenuti said the bulk of the paperwork to be done by lighthouse schools is that mandated by the federal government. Most of the state-mandated paperwork would be eliminated.

"It gives a little bit more

'home rule' to the school district," Benvenuti said.

No motion was made on the issue, however. Board members expressed a desire to know more about the lighthouse school concept before making a decision.

Other matters included: —authorizing the widening and repair of pavement behind Bay High School to accommodate better the school buses;

—giving permission to the Head Start program to use the Bay High School gym for a graduation May 15;

—giving permission to the Hancock County Recreation SCHOOLS—Page 5A

Diboll Foundation gives $150,000 to hospital

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Collins C. Diboll Private Foundation has provided a $150,000 gift to Hancock Medical Center for purchase of angiography equipment, which is used to x-ray blood vessels.

Donald W. Diboll, a trustee of the foundation, said the organization was named for his cousin, who died in 1987.

Diboll said the gift is being provided in memory of his great-great grandfather, Dr. Joseph S. Copes.

Copes opened his medical practice in Jackson in 1839 and was particularly active in Mississippi.

He served as the Mississippi delegate to the meeting at which American Medical Association was founded, representing the Mississippi State Medical Society.

Copes was also author of the vaccine laws in Mississippi and worked in New Orleans during yellow fever epidemic.

He returned to Mississippi after being asked by the govern-nor to assist with yellow fever problems in this state.

Diboll explained that the gift was arranged for the medical center through the facility's administrator, Phillip Wolfe, who had told him the hospital needed the angiography equipment.

"We were very pleased to be able to do it," Diboll stated.

"Most of money we give is in New Orleans where Collins lived, but since Dr. Copes was so active here we wanted to do something in Mississippi."

Mississippi's only AIAA chapter established at Stennis Space Center

Mississippi's only chapter of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics has been established at NASA's John C. Stennis Space Center.

AIAA is the nation's oldest and largest professional technical society in aeronautics and astronautics and related defense systems.

AIAA members stay abreast of the latest technological advancements in the United States. The organization is open to the public.

Ross Nunn, deputy general manager of Sverdrup Technology Inc., through the support of Sverdrup General Manager Lin Ward, headed the establishment of the chapter.

"In November 1989, we held an organizational meeting to see how many people would be interested," Nunn said. "We expected 25, and 60 showed up."

The group held its first meeting as a local chapter in January with Stennis Space Center Director Roy Estess as the inaugural guest speaker.

AIAA members stay up-to-date on the latest cutting-edge technology through technical journals and committees, continuing education, books and workshops, and national and international meetings.

AIAA has 42,000 members nationwide which includes engineers, scientists, managers, students, educators and affiliated aerospace professionals. Members receive Aerospace America, the AIAA flagship publication.

"The idea locally was to provide a chapter where we can interact professionally," Nunn said. "Through the year we hope to bring speakers in from both government industry and the academic world to give us a cross section of new technologies." Plans are to have guest speakers from a variety of technological fields.

Stennis Space Center employees in the local AIAA chapter are from NASA, Sverdrup, Pan Am World Services Inc., Computer Sciences Corporation and Rocketdyne Division of Rockwell International.

NASA administrators view remote sensing lab

A team from NASA Headquarters, led by Deputy Administrator J. R. Thompson, recently visited the Stennis Space Center as part of a round of visits to facilities receiving Center for Commercial Development of Space (CCDS) funding. This visit was to the Space Remote Sensing Center located at SSC.

The Space Remote Sensing Center, directed by Dr. George May is a division of the Institute for Technology Development (ITD).

According to May, Stennis is an ideal location for his center which works closely with NASA's Science and Technology Laboratory. The center's mission, May explained, is to develop and stimulate commercial uses of remote sensing technology that is mainly satellite based.

Len Vernamonti of Jackson, president of ITD, joined SRSC personnel as they updated NASA officials.

There are 16 CCDS facilities scattered across the United States, 14 of which are located on university campuses. The center located at SSC is one of two dealing with commercialization of remote sensing technology. The other is located at Ohio State University.

The visiting team included NASA Controller Tom Campbell; Assistant Administrator of Code C, the commercialization program office, Jim Rose; Associate Administrator for Code E, dealing with space science, Lynn Fisk; and the program manager for the 16 CCDS projects, Ray Whitten.

Don't lose Jesus in the Easter fun

Do children know these days what Easter is about? More importantly, do adults know? Have parades, the Easter Bunny and promises of candy, colored eggs and a new outfit overshadowed the Christian message of the day?

Don't get me wrong, I love the annual family get-togethers for Easter at my grandmother's house in DeLisle. The toddlers and children hunt eggs while most of the adults play softball. The rest of us talk and watch the fun.

But until 1988, the Easter fun was the focus of the holiday for me. That year, I realized for the first time that this time of celebration has a more eternal significance than a few colored eggs and a chocolate rabbit or two. In case you've forgotten in the excitement of new clothes and Easter baskets, Jesus died and rose again for us that weekend.

As Paul wrote in I Corinthians 15:3-4, "I passed on to you right from the first what had been told to me, that Christ died for our sins just as the Scriptures said he would, and that he was buried, and that three days afterwards he arose from the grave just as the prophets foretold."

The Bible tells us that first Easter was at the start of Passover and Jesus became, once and for all time, the Passover Lamb that eternally set us free from our sins if we would accept that sacrifice.

As a child, I wondered what eggs and rabbits had to do with what I'd been taught was a Christian holiday. Well, I recently found out from a trip to the Pass Christian Public Library.

Several books about religious and other symbols, and in particular a book titled Handbook of Christian Feasts and Customs by Francis X. Weiser, said the symbols of the egg and the rabbit originated in pre-Christian fertility rites and beliefs — eggs because they produce new life, and rabbits because they reproduce so rapidly.

The egg, like many pre-Christian symbols and practices, was incorporated into Christian practices in the early days of the church. The rabbit, while it has no religious significance, has endured as the mythical producer of children's Easter eggs.

So, two of the most popular of modern Easter symbols had their beginnings in pagan religious beliefs and practices.

Now, please don't think I'm exhorting you to put aside all the trappings of Easter and get ultra-spiritual. I'm just asking that you remember the cross and the lily — symbols of Jesus and his sacrifice — along with the eggs and bunnies.

So, have a happy Easter! Hunt eggs, eat chocolate, watch the parades — and take some time to stop and thank Jesus for what he did for us that day.

Senator Trent Lott will make the presentations.

The medal was authorized by Congress for any person who served honorably as a prisoner of war after April 5, 1917. The medal recognizes the special service prisoners of war gave to their country and the suffering and anguish they endured while incarcerated.

Others receiving the medal will be John S. Painter, Dalton G. Wheat, Mrs. Gregory F.

Brooks, Allen D. Randall, all of Gulfport; Maurice L. Tanner and James E. Wells, Moss Point; Robert L. Seitzinger, Vancleave; Bernard W. Currin, Long Beach; Arthur D. Williams, Biloxi; and James

D. Gautier, Ocean Springs.

Auntie Litter invites Bay area clubs' help

Auntie Litter is allied in a war with the "Litter Forces" from Bay St. Louis to Pascagoula.

The Gulfport Kiwanis Club is kicking off their massive and successful "Auntie Litter Anti Litter" campaign in every city of the Mississippi Gulf Coast by inviting organizations in Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian, Long Beach, Orange Grove, Biloxi, Ocean Springs, Pascagoula and Moss Point to join them under the banner of their great leader "Auntie Litter" to battle the forces of evil that create our litter problem.

The campaign press conference will be held under the flags at Hwy. 90 and DeBuys Road on April 18 at 11 a.m. where plans will be revealed about the upcoming consolidation of anti-litter forces along the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Representatives from all coastal cities as well as their mayors are expected to attend.

Kmart to deliver baskets to needy

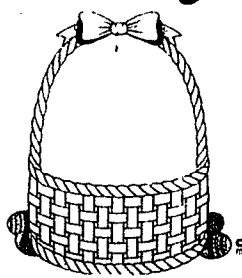

Kmart in Waveland will provide an Easter feast today for 10 needy families in the community.

Each family will receive food baskets from Kmart containing ham, potatoes, vegetables and bread—all the holiday meal trimmings for a family of four.

The St. Vincent de Paul Society will help identify needy families in the area, and Kmart employees will deliver the food baskets to each family.

"This is the fifth year our Waveland Kmart is providing an Easter feast for needy families," said Kmart manager Paul McElveen. "Being able to help those in our community, who would otherwise not have an Easter meal to enjoy, makes our holiday even more meaningful."

The Waveland Kmart is one of 2,100 Kmart stores participating in the nationwide community Good News Program. Good News committees are organized by employee volunteers in each Kmart store. The committees are actively involved in year-round outreach programs in the communities surrounding their Kmart stores.

Kmart Corporation will provide over 21,000 needy families across the country with a food basket for this Easter holiday.

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

By Bill Minor

Representative Whitten from Dixiecrat to loyal Democrat

During the 1950s and 1960s, when U.S. Rep. Jamie L. Whitten was a leader of a Southern anti-civil rights bloc in Congress, he hardly let it be known back in Mississippi that he belonged to the Democratic Party.

Now the resilient old First District congressman has come full circle to become a revered Democrat.

The other night at the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner of the Mississippi Democratic Party in Jackson, Whitten, who turns 80 next week, was given the state party's highest recognition, the Lifetime Achievement Award.

Whitten was honored for his incredible 49 years in Congress and for a "life-long commitment to the goals and objectives of the Democratic Party."

None seemed to mind anymore that Whitten once was a die-hard Dixiecrat who played footsie with Ross Barnett's unpledged elector forces in 1960 which kept John F. Kennedy from carrying Mississippi or that he was one of the darlings of the white Citizens Councils in the heyday of that segregationist organization.

When Mississippi had to eliminate a House seat back in 1962, Barnett saw to it that his legislative leaders gerrymandered a district which protected Whitten, while putting the ax to Frank Smith, who was then the lone Democratic loyalist in the state Congressional delegation.

Whitten had been a key figure in organizing the Southern Manifesto, the Dixie bloc formed in Congress in opposition to the passage of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

But that was the "old" Jamie Whitten. Once blacks began to register to vote in numbers in his district in the late 1960s, Whitten began to play down his segregationist background and started voting more and more with the National Democratic Party leadership.

In late 1974, Whitten decided it was time he gained some identity with the movement to heal the breach between the Regular and Loyalist wings of the Mississippi Democratic Party. He surprisingly went to the National Democratic mini-convention in Kansas City and spoke up for building an aggressive Mississippi Democratic Party.

That helped gain Whitten valuable currency in the House Democratic Caucus, which later purged several Southern hard-line conservatives from their powerful committee posts, but left Whitten untouched as chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Agriculture.

As the longtime subcommittee chairman on ag spending, Whitten became known as the "Permanent Secretary of Agriculture" around Capitol Hill and was noted for terrorizing the Department of Agriculture and the Environmental Protection Agency.

He was made a target of environmentalists when in the mid-1960s he authored a book, That We May Live, which staunchly defended use of agricultural pesticides. Later, it was learned that the book had been subsidized by agricultural chemical interests.

For the last 10 years, Whitten has been chairman of the full House Appropriations Committee, and has become one of a handful of most influential people in Congress. In fact, he is referred to simply "the Chairman" in Capitol circles.

Whitten's legendary handing of appropriations bills, speaking in a low Mississippi drawl, has gained for him the label, "the mumbler," by some of his colleagues on the Appropriations Committee. When Whitten gets through marking up an appropriation bill, say fellow House members, "only Jamie knows what's in it."

Earlier this year, Citizens Against Government Waste, a private, non-profit watchdog group, accorded Whitten the dubious honor as Congress' "most effective" purveyor of pork-barrel projects for his district and state.

From a onetime staunch member of the Southern conservative bloc in the House who opposed all liberal Democratic programs, Whitten for the past 15 years has been voting rather consistently with the Democratic leadership.

In fact, during the Reagan years, Whitten almost alone in the Mississippi delegation, had opposed virtually every Reagan administration program despite the popularity of Ronald Reagan back in Mississippi.

The conversion of Jamie Whitten from Dixiecrat to a solid member of the Democratic majority in Congress is one of those rare Mississippi political transformation stories.

We need to protect our environment

Some 20 years ago more than 20 million people joined the first Earth Day celebration, the largest organized demonstration in human history.

Earth Day will be celebrated on April 22, 1990 and will even draw a larger number of participants than in previous years.

The number of persons concerned about our environment, which includes the earth we live on, water which is a vital substance for survival and air we breathe, is on the increase, and this is good.

Actually the celebrations for Earth Day along the Mississippi Gulf Coast will span a full week of activities.

The John C. Stennis Space Center, will conduct "Earth Day Awareness" for the week of April 16-20 with a Earth Science display and site-wide exhibits.

The research of our environment, space, water and earth are among the tasks being performed at the John C. Stennis Space Center and this is no mystery to anyone.

On April 21 in Bay St. Louis the Bookends Book Store and The Kid Company will sponsor a program for children, "Everyone Can Make A Difference."

That same evening there will be a "Concert in the Park," sponsored by the Bay St. Louis Business Association.

An "Earth Day Festival" will be held from noon until dusk in Bay St. Louis on April 22, sponsored by the Mississippi 20/20.

These are just a few of the Earth Day celebrations scheduled along the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

It is good to see these and many more organizations and groups concerned about our environment.

We have to be concerned for the future generations of mankind.

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Time to work together to balance the budget

The men who signed the Declaration of Independence, who framed our constitution, were not timid people. They recognized problems and had the courage to solve them.

At a time when our nation is spending $200 billion more than it is collecting in taxes; at a time when we are borrowing $100 billion from foreign banks; and disguising the horrible nature of the debt with the Social Security trust, elected officials have a moral obligation to pull together and put our nation back in the black.

I've already co-sponsored a piece of legislation that requires the Congress to balance the budget. And I'm considering introducing legislation after Easter that would require the president to submit a balanced budget. President Bush is such a popular president that members of the House and Senate could not help but follow his lead.

H. R. 3464 that I've co-sponsored seeks to simplify and reform our budget process. Among other things, the legislation would remove automatic increases in spending pro-rams, provide a limited line item veto and take Social Security Trust funds fully off-budget.

My own bill is designed to ease the concerns of citizens who are tired of the Administration and the Congress borrowing money that our children will be forced to repay.

In a very short time, America has gone from the world's greatest creditor to the world's greatest debtor. In effect, the countries that could not conquer us 50 years ago are buying us today.

So far, I've collected more than 25 signatures in support of my own balanced budget legislation, mostly of conservative "Boll Weevil" Democrats.

But, I plan to make the push for a balanced budget, a bipartisan effort I hope to collect Republican signatures when I arrive back from a district work period in Mississippi.

In submitting a balanced budget, I believe President Bush, who has served his nation well as a fighter pilot Congressman, Vice President and Commander-in-Chief, will bravely chart a new course for the Congress and future administrations to follow.

It's time for the Congress and the President to work together and force our nation to live within its means. The survival of this nation depends on it.

Drug task force seizes marijuana, arrests five

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Metropolitan Narcotics Task force has confiscated more than 20 pounds of marijuana and arrested five people in an investigation which crossed over into Harrison County.

According to Task Force Director Glen Strong, the arrests all occurred on Saturday, beginning shortly after noon with the arrest of James T. Nobles, 25, of 24287 Talley Shaw Road off Highway 53 in Harrison County.

Nobles was charged with sale of a controlled substance, over a kilo, with that substance being marijuana, Strong stated. Nobles' bond was set at $50,000.

He was arrested at the residence of Larry Verdon Wall, 32, of 4593 C.C. Road in the Rocky Hill Community. Wall was also arrested, according to Strong, and was charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to distribute.

Wall was released from the Hancock County Jail on $10,000 bond.

Strong said Nobles allegedly sold Wall four pounds of marijuana just prior to the two arrests.

The task force director stated that Nobles was allegedly selling the marijuana for John Mark Ferrill, 25, and Roxanne Elizabeth Ferrill, 22, of 24287 Talley Shaw Road, both of whom were charged with sale of a controlled substance, over one kilo.

Bond for the couple was set at $50,000 each. They are also facing a charge of intent to distribute a controlled substance in Harrison County, where their bond was $25,000 each.

"After the arrests of Nobles and Wall, we got with Harrison County Narcotics Task Force Director John Nobles, no relation to the Nobles we arrested, and after advising him of what we had done, set it up so we could obtain a search warrant in Harrison County," Strong stated.

About 20.5 pounds of marijuana were seized after the search warrant was executed at about 4 p.m. at the Talley Shaw Road residence, along with scales, zip-lock bags, a variety of other drug paraphernalia, a .357 magnum, pictures depicting illegal drug activity, $670 cash, a late model Buick and a 1984 Nissan truck.

An additional arrest was made during the execution of the search warrant. Strong said David William Anderson, 35, of 509 East Tracey Drive, Gulfport, was charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to distribute.

A search of his vehicle yielded about a quarter-pound of the drug, Strong added. His bond was set at $2,500.

Assisting Strong and John Nobles were Hancock County task force agents Gus Aime and Jimmy Varnell, Harrison County task force agent David Davenport and Hancock County Deputy Clay Sick.

"We have reason to believe that most of the narcotics being sold in Hancock and much of Harrison County originate with these people," Strong commented, adding that the matter is still under investigation and that more arrests are expected.

"Without the existence of this task force, these people may never have come to arrest," the task force director stated.

Effective contract building topic of NCMA seminar

"Building A Contract: Solicitations/Bids and Proposals—A Team Effort?" is the subject of an intensive one-day training seminar to be held at the Clarion Hotel in New Orleans, La. on May 23.

The course is offered by the National Contract Management Association (NCMA), a nonprofit organization of more than 23,000 government and industry contracts professionals, as part of its annual National Education Seminar (NES) program.

The seminar addresses the complex pre-award process in federal acquisition. The Mardi Gras Chapter (New Orleans) seminar will be taught by two instructors representing the private and public sector: Dr. Jay C. Billings, director, Defense Systems Management Corporation; and Mitchell J. Ross, director of Contracts, BDM International Inc.

Effective contract building calls for a recognition of the roles played by counterparts in both government and industry. Proven approaches to contracting issues are the concern of a rain, we have to wait for the roads to dry before we can put down gravel or grade.

"I tell you, it used to be that when it rained we could just go home and relax and wait for it to stop. But now, I cringe every time I hear thunder, because I know those roads we just fixed are going to be torn up again."

Future plans, Ladner said, include putting away money from millage over the next four years for road surfacing.

"If we can put away the whole amount over the next four years, at the end of that time we should be able to start paving roads."

"It's going to take time, though. Most of the people in the county are living on fixed incomes. They can't afford to pay more taxes. So we're not about to vote for a tax increase."

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Why is the egg the symbol of the Easter season? And, why does the Easter Bunny lay eggs like no other self-respecting rabbit?

Well, it's like this, or so goes the legend. According to some sources, the Easter bunny traces his ancestry back to a bird! In pre-Christian times, the goddess of Spring, Eostre, after whom Easter is named, amused a group of children one day by turning her brightly-colored bird into a rabbit, or so the folk tale tells us.

He was so elated with his new shape that he celebrated his first spring as a floppy-eared bunny by giving people something he had known how to make when he was a bird—eggs! And so, to this day, we continue the custom of the bunny bringing eggs at Eastertime in celebration of the rebirth of life and all growing things!

Of course, the egg is a natural for Easter, as it has always been a symbol of birth and new life. It is especially appropriate at Easter, the most important Holy Day of the Christian year, symbolic of a new beginning, a promise of rebirth, a celebration of the Resurrection, a belief fundamental to Christianity.

Paradoxically, the Christian festival of Easter embodies many pre-Christian traditions, patterned after the pagan festival of the goddess Eostre, in celebration of the spring harvest.

The early Egyptians, Persians and Chinese colored eggs for their spring festival. And, ham, always a star at Eastertime, perhaps the most popular choice, has been a good luck symbol throughout the ages.

To the ancient Europeans, the pig was a symbol of good luck and prosperity, and its meat was eaten on many festive occasions.

Lamb shares the place of honor, especially in Greece where just about everyone who possibly can do so, digs a pit and roasts a lamb—each country has its special custom.

In France, the omelet is king at Easter, as it is much of the year, of course, from simple omelets to elaborately stuffed and rolled and sauced concoctions.

Roast leg of lamb, or lamb chops prepared in one fashion or another are excellent choices for the festive meal as is baked ham. But, if your family is small, or there's just one or perhaps two at table, you might wish to serve a thick center ham slice, baked along with a tasty citrus glaze:

TANGY HAM SLICE

Thick center slice of ham, 2 lbs. or a bit more
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, chopped
1/4 cup catsup
2 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/4 cup cider vinegar
1 cup tomato soup, condensed, undiluted
2 tsp. butter
1 1/2 tsp. brown sugar
Dash of pepper, hot pepper sauce

Place ham in a baking dish or shallow casserole. Mix together other ingredients, and pour over the ham slice. Cover, and bake at 350 degrees for approximately an hour, until tender. Enjoy!

Chefs of the Coast gourmet extravaganza

The Mississippi Coast Restaurant & Beverage Association will present its 8th annual "Chefs of the Coast Gourmet Extravaganza," Sunday, April 22 from 4-10 p.m. at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum and Convention Center, Hwy. 90, Biloxi.

Admission to the event is a $40 donation per person which includes dinner, cocktails, entertainment, and door prize drawings. Advanced tickets are available to the public from association members or at the Coast's three Holiday Inn Restaurants.

Tickets may also be purchased at the association's office at Bailey Plaza, Suite 7-B, Biloxi. Proceeds from the extravaganza are used to aid community projects supported by the association and to provide scholarship funds for students planning to enter the restaurant and lounge profession.

More than 60 popular restaurants, lounges and supplies will participate in the event which will feature salads, soups, appetizers, gumbo, entrees, vegetables, bread and desserts especially selected from their most favorite menu items. Unique seafood specialties as well as ethnic dishes will be highlighted in the gourmet serving line.

Ticket holders are eligible for prizes to be awarded throughout the event. According to association officials, attendance at last year's extravaganza was more than 1,200.

Because of the ticket limitations, organizers urge those interested in attending to purchase tickets early to avoid disappointment.

Roll up a portable post-Easter sandwich

Spread it...wrap it...roll it...and eat it. "It" is egg salad, and Egg Salad Roll-Ups are a fun alternative to the traditional post-Easter sandwich. (Moms take note: your kids can get a kick out of making these for lunch or snacktime.)

Start with a soft flour tortilla and line it with lettuce leaves and ready-to-eat beef slices. Top with the tangy egg salad (or your own favorite egg-salad blend) and you're ready to roll.

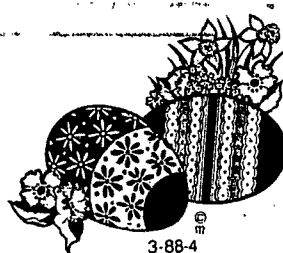

The result is an eat-out-of-hand sandwich that tastes great and is neat to eat. If you like, wrap in plastic wrap or aluminum foil to pack for lunch. (Be sure to include a frozen ice or coolant pack to keep the sandwich cold if refrigerator storage is not available.)

Best of all, eggs make a nutritious sandwich filler. Each large egg provides 15 percent of the U.S. RDA for protein plus 13 vitamins and many minerals. (For safety's sake, hard-cooked Easter eggs should not be eaten if out of refrigeration more than two to six hours or if they are cracked.)

EGG SALAD ROLL-UPS

4 servings
1/3 cup reduced-calorie mayonnaise
1/4 cup sliced green onions with tops
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/8 to 1/4 teaspoon liquid hot pepper seasoning
4 hard-cooked eggs*, chopped
4 small flour tortillas
Leaf lettuce leaves
1 package (2.5 oz.) ready-to-eat smoked beef Water

In small bowl, stir together mayonnaise, onions, mustard and seasoning until well blended. Stir in eggs until well combined.

For each roll-up: line one tortilla with lettuce leaves and 1/4 of the beef slices. Spread with 1/4 of the egg salad mixture. Fold in side edges and roll up. Moisten top edge with water to seal. Serve immediately or wrap tightly in plastic wrap and chill until serving.

*To hard cook, place eggs in single layer in saucepan. Add enough tap water to come at least 1 inch above eggs. Cover and quickly bring just to boiling. Turn off heat. If necessary, remove pan from burner to prevent further boiling.

Let eggs stand, covered in the hot water about 15 to 17 minutes for large eggs. (Adjust time up or down by about 3 minutes for each size larger or smaller.)

Immediately run cold water over eggs or place them in ice water until completely cooled. To remove shell, crackle it by tapping gently all over. Roll egg between hands to loosen shell, then peel, starting at large end. Hold egg under running cold water or dip in bowl of water to help ease off shell.

Wave pool to open at Buccaneer State Park

Swimmers and other water sports lovers can get their swimsuits out of mothballs and get ready to have a good time when the Buccaneer State Park wave pool opens Saturday, April 14, in Waveland.

Stu Rayburn, assistant park manager, said the pool will open at 11 a.m.

Normal operating hours for the pool will be 11 a.m. until 6:45 p.m. every Saturday and Sunday until May 18, when the pool will be operating seven days a week.

Wave pool prices are $5.50 for adults and $4 for children under the age of 12. Admission entitles wave pool users to enjoy the pool all day. A twilight rate of $3.25 for adults and $2.50 for children are available for pool users after 4:45 a.m. each operating day.

A wading pool with no wave action is also available at the park campground at a price of $2 for adults and $1 for children, Rayburn said.

Camping sites are available at the park all year.

Competition begins at 9 a.m. at the Gulfport High School track facility and will include divisions ranging from youth to 19 to 80 and up. Events include traditional track and field jumps, throws, hurdles and sprints, along with a 3,200-meter run.

Labat, Heitzmann win tennis titles

Myron Labat Jr. and Kristy Heitzmann, both of Bay St. Louis, have won the Treasure Oak Junior Circuit Tennis Tournament championships in their divisions.

Labat participated in the boys' 16-and-under division in the event, which was played Saturday and Sunday at Treasure Oak in Ocean Springs, while Heitzmann played in the girls' 16-and-unders.

Labat, seeded second in the tournament, received a default in the first round, then dispensed with John Pittman of Gulfport, 6-0, 6-4; Andy Lee of McComb, 6-2, 6-1; and, in the championship match, Patrick Riley of Slidell, La., 6-2, 6-0.

Heitzmann out-rallies Lori Jordan of Hattiesburg 7-5, 6-3 after trailing 0-5 in the first set. She then defeated Katie McMahon, also of Hattiesburg, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3 in the semifinals and Leslie Hayden of Ocean Springs 6-4, 7-5 in the championship match.

While Labat used a variety of tactics including consistent baseline play, serve-and-volley and chipping and charging to secure his title, Heitzmann relied on her consistent groundstrokes and determination to frustrate her opponents' efforts.

Kellie Murray, also of Bay St.

Louis, had a tough time with Amanda Hopkins of Gulfport, losing 3-6, 5-7. In the consolation bracket, Murray defeated Carla Smith of Gulfport before losing to Kelly Lanier, another Gulfport player, 1-6, 6-2, 3-6.

Murray plays in the girls' 12-and-under division.

A fourth Bay St. Louis player, Kristy Heitzmann's younger sister Julie Heitzmann, defeated Lori Bond of Hattiesburg 7-5, 6-3 in the girls'

12-and-under division before losing to Clare Waltman of Slidell, 7-6, 3-6, 4-6.

Both Labat and Kristy Heitzmann are also contenders for the 1990 District 8, 4-A and 2-A singles titles.

LOCAL PARTICIPANTS in the Treasure Oak Tennis Tournament included, from left, Megan Uram; Julie Heitzmann, second place, girls under 12; Kristy Heitzmann,

Rocks dominate track and field

In four meets this year, the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws have placed first in two meets, second in one, and third in another.

SSC won both of their home meets by 100 point margins. Other teams participating in the home meets included Hancock North Central, Bay High, Poplarville, St. Martin, d'Iberville, Pass Christian, Long Beach, Pope John Paul II, Pearl River Central and George County.

In one of the most competitive meets of the season at d'Iberville, the Rocks finished a close third behind winner Stone County and second place Ocean Springs. Only four points separated St. Stanislaus and Ocean Springs.

Other schools in the meet included Harrison Central, St. Martin, George County, Pass Christian and Pearl River Central.

In individual scoring, Brian Brooks is undefeated in the 3,200 meters, 1,600 meters and 800 meters. He set a school record in the 3,200 with a time of 9:58. His best times in the 1,600 is 4:36, and 2:06 in the 800. Unbelievably, Brooks runs all three of these races in the same meets, and has the best time on the Coast in the 1,600 and 3,200.

In the 100 meter and 200 meter dash, Chris Reisch has set school records of 10.88 and 22.26 respectively in the events. Reisch also runs in the 400 and 800 meter relays, and at times also competes in the 1,600 meter relay.

He holds a victory over Germaine Galloway of Ocean Springs in the 200 meter dash. Galloway is one of the best sprinters in 5-A competition this year.

Reisch also finished a close second to Sam Hince of Stone County in the 200 meter dash at d'Iberville.

Shannon Garrett has had success in the 100 meter and 200 meter dashes. He has been moved to the 400 meter dash and has done an excellent job by winning his first two races. Garrett has also been an anchor leg on the 400 and 800 meter relays, a position he has held since his freshman year.

Galen Smith has been a solid competitor in field events. He has high jumped 6'0", and triple jumped 39'10". Smith is undefeated at home in the long jump and triple jump.

Gary Ponthieux has pole vaulted 11'6" this year and is aiming to break last year's district record of 10'9" held by Rock Johnny LaBruzzo.

Other runners include Paul Johnson in the 400 meter dash, and the 800 and 1,600 meter relays; and Triant Platz in the 400 meter and in the 1,600 meter relay.

Newcomers to the Rock track squad include Kyle Williams, 3,200 meter run; Manning Montagnet, Brad Sweeney and Scott Marechal round out the distance runners.

In field events, Mark Cina throws the discus, along with Omer King Hebert and Robbie Bergeron; and Tate Thriffley competes in the long jump and triple jump.

David Alexander and Mike

Davidge are the shot putters, and Mickey Quinlan, Trent Terrell, Chris Schenker, Brandon Rhodes and Nick Walker round out the sprinting staff. Ken Booker competes in the 100 and 300 meter hurdles.

SSC/OLA tennis wins continue

The combined St. Stanislaus/Our Lady Academy tennis team continued their winning ways on the courts last week, upping their overall record to 7-3 and 1-0 in district play.

Friday, SSC/OLA added five matches to the win column with a sweep over visiting Bay High. In boys' singles, Myron Labat defeated Chad Albe in straight sets, 6-0/6-0. And the girls' doubles team of Cathy Cromwell and Erin Moonie also won in straight sets, 6-0, 6-0.

Kristy Heitzmann downed Susanna Cameron 6-0, 6-2 in girls' singles; and the mixed doubles team of Mark Schutt and Jenny Keel defeated Susan Long and Tammy Bergeron, 6-2, 6-0.

Rounding out the varsity wins, Anthony Sperance and Chris Delgado took Jim Moore and Alex Machado 6-1, 6-2 in boys' doubles.

Earlier in the week, the SSC/OLA team met Hattiesburg High at Kemper Park in Hattiesburg. Kristy Heitzmann had an easy time winning over Mary Greer, 6-0, 6-0, in girls' singles.

In mixed doubles, Anthony Sperance and Shannon Maggio led 4-1 in the third set, and Hattiesburg came back to tie it 5-5. But Sperance and Maggio held on to win 7-5 in the third, for an overall 6-3, 3-6, 7-5 win.

In boys' doubles, Myron Labat and Chris Delgado were serving to win the first set 5-3, but were broken and lost the set 7-5. They lost the second set 6-3.

Boys singles player Mike Cronwell was not able to win a second set tie breaker and lost 6-3, 8-6. The girls doubles team of Cathy Cromwell and Jenny Keel lost 2-6, 2-6.

In "B" team action, Roberto Jimenez and Mark Schutt defeated Adam Shamber and Wes Rouse 6-2, 4-6, 6-0.

"Our team played hard and still lost some very close matches," commented tennis coach Myron Labat.

"However," he continued, "over the course of the season we have shown that we can definitely compete with the larger schools. Also, our tough 5-A schedule better prepares us for 4-A competition at the state level."

Buckley, Hale added to USM coaching staff

University of Southern Mississippi head football coach Curley Hallman announced the hiring of two new assistants -- Steve Buckley as running back coach and Steve Hale as outside linebacker coach with the Golden Eagle program.

The moves will fill vacancies left on the Golden Eagle staff after Jeff Bower moved to Oklahoma State and Ellis Johnson accepted a position with Alabama.

Also, Mike Bugar has been named assistant head coach and will continue to work with the defensive line; and, in addition to Buckley and Hale, Rodney Allison, who coached the running backs last season, now will serve as quarterback coach.

Steve Davis will continue to work with the defensive backs, Freeman Horton with the inside linebackers, Mark McHale with the offensive line, Dave Voth with the tight end and Larry Edmonson with the wide receivers.

Buckley, a 1985 USM graduate, has been graduate assistant on Hallman's staff for the past two seasons, working with Allison and the running backs. He was an all-state performer at South Natchez High School, and coached two seasons at Petal High School before joining the USM staff.

Hallman's Eagles are scheduled to start spring workouts March 19 and play the annual black and gold spring game April 21.

Fishing the tiny two-hook worm

At first glance, it looks like a toy, a child's lure to be used for tiny sunfish in a friend's farm pond.

What it really is, however, is one of the most effective lures ever developed for bass.

The four-inch, two-hook "do-nothing" plastic worm.

"These little worms, about half the size of a pencil, have been around since the early 1950s," says Johnson Outboards Pro Staff angler Jerry Rhyme, "and I've caught thousands of pounds of bass with them."

"They were first developed near my home in Denver, N.C., so I've used them since I was a youngster. They're pre-rigged with two little hooks that don't look large enough to hold a bass, but I've caught fish over nine pounds with these worms."

The tiny hooks, says Rhyme, are like razor blades. They cut instantly into the roof of a fish's mouth and will hold as long as the angler keeps a tight line.

"I like to use these worms with a 7/4 baitcasting rod and 14 to 17-pound test line," explains the Johnson pro. "The way to rig them is Carolina-style, which involves the use of an egg sinker and a barrel swivel."

"Slip a 3/4-ounce sinker on your line, then tie on the swivel," explains Rhyme. "Next, tie on a three-foot leader of 10-pound test line, and tie on the worm."

"You use a lighter leader because the hooks are exposed and you're going to snag a few on the bottom. The lighter leader will break and save you the swivel and sinker."

Rhyme prefers to fish the worm in 12 to 14-feet of water over ridges and humps where there is a fairly hard gravel or shell bottom. All he does is anchor in deep water and cast across the structure, then simply wind the worm across the bottom.

While the heavy sinker crawls and bounces along the bottom, the little worm floats up and behind it. Bass don't strike it the way they do a regular worm; they simply begin moving away with it.

"You don't really have to set the hook, either," Rhyme adds. "The bass will hook itself if you just make a slight jerk and then keep the line tight."

"Jack Chancellor, another member of the Johnson Outboards Pro Staff, won the Bass Masters Classic world championship fishing these little worms, so you know they'll catch fish. Nothing could be easier, either, than simply casting and then reeling the lure back to you."

The OMC Shooter® four-blade propeller, available from Johnson and Evinrude dealers, is unsurpassed in getting heavily loaded boats out of the hole and on plane quickly.

The prop features an "over-through" hub exhaust design that permits part of the engine exhaust to vent through the propeller hub and part to vent over the hub.

It provides superior acceleration at low and mid-range speeds with to-end performance close to that of the OMC Raker™ three-blade propeller.

BIG CATCH—Al Poillion, left, and Wallace Mies, both of Shoreline Park, show off the 42-pound catfish they caught recently while fishing in the Rotten Bayou area.

BMR officers to check boat registrations, equipment

With boating season under way, conservation officers with the Bureau of Marine Resources will be on the water checking boat registrations and boating safety equipment.

Chester Van Devender, BMR law enforcement supervisor, said conservation officers will be writing tickets for boating violations.

Van Devender cautioned boat owners to be sure that the numbers on their boats match the numbers on their registration cards.

Until 1988, registration numbers had only three digits, but as of July 1, 1988, all new registration numbers have four digits.

"Boats have to be re-registered every two years," Van Devender said. "The problem, we've run into is that boaters haven't changed their old registration numbers to match the numbers on their new registration cards."

The minimum penalty for having improper registration numbers on a boat is a $35 fine, plus $19.50 in court costs.

State law requires boat numbers to be at least three inches in height and placed on both sides of the bow. Registration numbers must be clearly visible and in a color contrasting with their backgrounds.

A boat registration card must be on a boat while the boat is being operated.

Conservation officers are encouraging boat owners to obey all safety regulations, including regulations prohibiting driving a boat under the influence of drugs or alcohol.

"Alcohol and drugs don't mix while operating a boat the same as they don't mix while operating a car. One is just as dangerous as the other," Van Devender said. "We'd like for it to be a safe, accident-free boating season for everyone."

BMR officers will be boarding boats during heavy boating periods and conducting safety checks to see that boat operators are complying with all state and federal safety laws.

Van Devender said that some frequent violations of boating regulations include:

—Not having a Coast Guard approved personal flotation devices (life jackets, flotation seat cushions, etc.) for every passenger on board. Laws also require that children 12 years old and younger wear an approved life jacket or vest while in an underway boat measuring less than 26 feet.

—Not having a throwable flotation device, such as a life ring, for boats 16 feet and over.

—Improper running lights for vessels operated at night.

—Failure to have a fire extinguisher aboard all vessels with an inboard engine or enclosed fuel compartment.

—Dumping litter into the water.

—Failure to have a person to observe the skier while a boat is engaged in water skiing.

A copy of boating regulations may be obtained at the BMR office, U.S. Coast Guard station and some marine equipment dealers.

Early seedling sale begins

It's a long way off until the 1990-91 planting season, but if you are planning to plant pine trees next winter, you can place an order right now and stop worrying about whether we'll have any left to sell you later on.

We've been given the "go-ahead" by the main office to begin taking orders for Loblolly and Slash Pines only. Our nurseries are expected to have an ample supply so we're going ahead with the sale of these two species. With the other species we offer each year it's a different story.

If you are thinking of planting Longleaf Pine, Baldcypress, or any of the several hardwoods we normally offer, you'll have to hold off ordering for a while until we see what sort of crop develops in the nursery this spring.

It's probably going to be June before we'll start taking applications for anything but Loblolly or Slash Pine. By then we'll have a good handle on the size of our hardwood, Baldcypress and Longleaf supply.

For those of you who want to order 100,000 or more trees, but don't want to pay out that much money this far ahead, there's good news. You can enter into a contract for the desired number of seedlings with full payment not due until delivery. Payment must be by certified check, cashier's check or money order.

Here's how the seedling prices run for this year's nursery crop:

Regular Loblolly and Slash Pine: $23 per thousand Improved Loblolly and Slash Pine: $31 per thousand

Later on in the early summer you'll be able to order hardwoods and Baldcypress for $185 per thousand and Longleaf Pines for $40 per thousand.

Incidentally, the nurseries are planting for a crop of 48 million pines and two million hardwoods, including Water, Willow and Nuttall Oaks, Green Ash and Sycamore. Baldcypress is included in the two million target we mentioned for hardwoods.

Don't forget that there are several forestry incentive programs that offer cost-sharing to help you get your land reforested. Check with me for details.

ASCS recommends pre-measurement

To assure farmers that they are in compliance with the 1990 acreage reduction requirements, Franklin A. Gennin, executive director of the Pearl River-Hancock County ASCS office, recommends a pre-measurement service.

"At the request of producers, we will stake and measure any type of acreage, or portions thereof, before crop planting time," Gennin said.

ASCS began accepting applications for the 1990 farm programs on January 16. The acreage reduction requirement are 5 percent of wheat, oats and extra long staple cotton, 10 percent for corn, sorghum and barley, 12.5 percent for upland cotton and 15 percent for rice.

"To be eligible for price support loans, target prices and other farm program benefits, producers must comply with these and other farm program provisions," Gennin said.

He said farmers may request pre-measurement for acreage conservation reserve land and planted acres of program crops.

When the land is pre-measured, producers are required to plant within the stakes that are placed and to report their crop acres to ASCS after planting.

Other ASCS producer services include measuring total cropland, fields or subdivisions to be planted and measuring land areas for other purposes.

Fees vary, based on the type of service rendered.

Reforestation efforts are essence of Earth Day

Before April 22—Earth Day 1990—Mississippi's landowners will have planted some 175,000,000 trees during the four-month tree planting season.

The season in Mississippi runs from mid-December to April, during which an average of 250,000 acres per year are planted or replanted in trees.

"The South has been called the 'wood basket of the world,' and Mississippi is right at its heart," said Jerry Perkins, president of Mississippi Forestry Association (MFA). "We are a national leader in a period of expanding global demand for wood and wood products."

"Market demand is a major factor that leads to the tremendous effort that we make here in Mississippi to reforest our state," said Steve Corbitt, MFA's executive vice president.

"On the upcoming 20th anniversary celebration of Earth Day, we can take pride in how we manage our renewable forest resource. Not only do we manage Mississippi's forests for timber, but we also manage them for wildlife, recreation, water quality and clean air," Corbitt said.

MFA is part of a group of non-profit organizations and state agencies planning activities across Mississippi to celebrate Earth Day 1990, the 20th anniversary of the original Earth Day.

Growing fruit requires care

By Dr. Milo Burnham

Horticulturist

Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service
"Just look at the price of fresh fruit in the grocery store! Nothing costs less than $1 a pound and some items are as high as $2.50 and $2.99 a pound. It's enough to make me want to grow my own fruit, and why not? I've got a yard, and there are a lot of fruit trees at reasonable prices that have just been shipped to the local discount store."

How many times have I heard such statements at this time of the year? Sure, fresh fruit is expensive at the grocery store in winter.

The solution to the problem isn't necessarily growing your own. Stop a minute to think about fruit in Mississippi. It produces in late spring and summer when domestic, not foreign, fruit is in the market, and the prices are a little lower.

Even if you grow your own fruit, you'll be eating foreign, canned or frozen fruit in winter.

I'm not opposed to Mississippi gardeners growing fruit. In fact, I think it's a great idea if they have a sunny location, well-drained fertile soil, select the proper types of fruit and varieties adapted to Mississippi and are willing to make the commitment to properly care for the plants.

This means regular spraying of fungicides and insecticides, annual pruning and trellising according to recommended practices, irrigation and fertilization based on a soil test.

There are many types of fruit that can be successfully grown in Mississippi. Among these are the tree fruits; apples, peaches, pears, plums and figs, and the small fruits like strawberries, blueberries, muscadines and blackberries. Of course, not all the fruits perform equally well in all parts of the state.

When purchasing fruit plants there are some guidelines to keep in mind. Most varieties of apples are self-unfruitful. This means you need at least two trees, one of each of two different varieties for pollination. The same is true of many plums except the variety Methley which is partially self-fruitful.

Some pear varieties, Orient, Baldwin, and Kieffer are self-fruitful, and only one tree is necessary, but some varieties of pears are so susceptible to the bacterial disease fire blight they can't be grown in Mississippi. Bartlett is one of these. Most varieties of peaches are self-fruitful, and you can have fruit if you plant only one tree.

There are some types of fruit that are not adapted to our Mississippi climate and should not be planted. Apricots and sweet cherries are two of these. One of the main reasons these fruits will not grow in Mississippi is that our winters are not long or cold enough.

Fortunately for people with small yards, there are fruit trees that are grafted to dwarfing rootstocks which reduce the size of the trees. This is especially important with apples and pears where mature trees are quite large. Plum and peach trees naturally aren't large trees so dwarfing is not as important.

When you purchase fruit trees they will be either bare root (no soil), with the roots wrapped in a moisture holding material, or rooted in soil in a container. Avoid the inclination to select trees that are more than one year old with the hopes of getting fruit sooner.

The first recommendation after preparing the soil and planting the tree is usually to prune the tree back to a height of 26 to 30 inches and remove all side branches so all that remains is a whip. 26 to 30 inches tall.

This is the recommendation for apples, pears, peaches and plums. With larger trees, those more than one year of age, this seems drastic. However, the best shaped trees come from those pruned initially to a whip.

All too often backyard fruit growers leave the trees unpruned for several years. This neglect results in poor growth, shading out and limb breakage.

Local events focus on education and fun

BY TRACI BONNEY

As the sun sets on this century, people throughout the world are showing more concern for the well-being of the planet.

An outgrowth of this concern is Earth Day 1990, which will be celebrated April 22. This marks the 20th anniversary of Earth Day, when more than 20 million people worldwide participated in the largest organized demonstration in history.

Earth Day 1970 led to the passage of major legislation by Congress — the first Clean Air Act and Clean Water Act — and the formation of the Environmental Protection Agency.

Earth Day 1990, with a calendar of events scheduled through the end of April, is intended to focus more on public awareness of the need for changes in our lifestyles. The theme of this year's activities is "Think Globally, Act Locally."

Events on the Coast focus on public education, actual environmental improvement work, and entertainment. These events include displays, conferences, workshops, television specials, festivals, and activities such as cleanups, tree plantings, collecting recyclable materials, animal releases and an inventory of the environment of a segment of Wolf River.

Several organizations and businesses in West Harrison and Hancock counties are participating in Earth Day 1990.

Stennis Space Center has scheduled the first local event, an "Earth Day Awareness" program April 16-20 with an earth science display and exhibits throughout the site. Also scheduled for April 18 at SSC is a technical workshop for teachers about Earth Day education.

The Eighth Annual Soil and Water Stewardship Run/Walk is planned to coincide with an Earth Day Festival April 21 at War Memorial Park in Pass Christian. The festival, sponsored by the Harrison County Soil and Water Conservation District, Mississippi 2020, and Citizens for a Healthy Environment, will include a kite-making contest, music, food booths and a tree giveaway.

Also scheduled that day, from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. is a children's program at Bookends Bookstore and The Kid Company on Hwy. 90 in Bay St.

Louis. Music, children's activities, environmental books and fish printing are among the offerings for little ones.

That night, from 6 to 9, the Bay St. Louis Business Association will hold a concert at City Hall Park. Music will be by Garland Moran and the Night Travelers.

The culmination of local events comes on Earth Day, April 22, with an Earth Day Festival in Bay St. Louis and the annual open house of Huckleberry Hill Arboretum in Pass Christian. The festival starts at noon and features contests, music and food. The open house at the arboretum is from 1 to 4 p.m. and includes a wildlife display, lectures, a photo exhibit, nature trail walks and music.

For more information about local Earth Day 1990 activities, contact local coordinators Bruce Northridge at 467-0908 or Don Harvill at 467-4734.

BIRTH OF A DELTA

This CAMS image, produced with new geo-reference software during the SSC/STL coastal geomorphology study, reveals a new delta being created on the Louisiana coast. Image A is a 1987 USGS map of the area. Images B and C are 1988 CAMS data acquired near high tide and low tide, respectively. Land is shown in dark blue. The images show nearly 20 square kilometers of land that has formed since the map was published. They also show some interesting flow patterns that are being studied such as the river feeding along the bottom left of image C which is not present in image B. The study is being conducted in cooperation with the Coastal Studies Institute of Louisiana State University.

Brother Paul Montero, principal of St. Stanislaus High School, has announced that senior Noah Denson has been named as a National Merit Finalist for the 1989-90 school session.

The finalists are distinguished as a select group who represent fewer than one half of one percent of American high school seniors.

HONEST, MORE MISSISSIPPIANS FEEL THAT NEWSPAPER IS THE MOST BELIEVABLE MEDIUM.

Source: Consumer
Data Service, 1989

We can't lie.

A recent study showed that more people feel newspaper is the most believable medium.

Not television.

Not radio.

Not magazines.

But why?

It's probably because we know that a newspaper lays it all out in black & white.

Right in front of you.

The places, the people, and the prices.

The offers, the promises and the claims.

It's all there to read, think about, and keep. And that goes for the advertisements, too.

When people turn to their paper, they turn there with interest. Which means that's where your advertising message needs to be.

With all the choices available, it's difficult deciding how best to advertise your business.

But everything becomes a little simpler when you remember one rule.

YOU GOTTA BE IN THE
